“Participating in the Summer Intensive Program is one of the best decisions I’ve made in my transition to UCLA from Cerritos College. Dr. Tomiyama and her graduate students provided valuable coursework that helped me prepare for the rigorous UCLA experience. I shadowed one of her studies on weight stigma and stress, engaged in critically analyzing peer-reviewed articles, and developed an empirical research proposal; essential skills that are contributing to my success in the Research Methods course and future career in Psychology.”

- Nancy Gomez,

Ph.D. Student in Psychology, University of Washington

You’ll learn about cutting-edge research methods, tips on applying to graduate school, and much more!
